

Decorating on a Dime

EXPO®

During back to school time, you want to make your classroom as festive and inviting as possible to students and parents. The trick is to do so without breaking the bank on the other classroom items you might need.

Hand your students EXPO® Neon™ Markers to decorate your dry erase boards – and windows too. The vibrant ink writes clearly on glass, whiteboards and most other non-porous surfaces.

Students can create stunning art, limited only by their imagination (and the watchful eye of their teacher).

Test your desks first. If they wipe clean with a simple cloth or paper towel, students are free to start creating.

Want to make the students' artwork make a lasting impression? Use EXPO® Wet-Erase Markers. They're just as useful for drawing and lettering as they are for raising a little school spirit in the process. They're the perfect tool for creating charts and notes that you want to last a little longer. When you're done, simply use a cleaner to remove.

And don't forget all the holidays and other great occasions throughout the year that you'll want to decorate the classroom for. There's football season, good luck messages to various sports teams (especially middle and high schools), Halloween, Thanksgiving, winter break holidays, New Year's Day, Groundhog Day, St. Patrick's Day, spring break and – well, you'll probably find other good excuses, too!
